YOUR HOME OFFICE

It's a Wordprocessor!

Prepare professional looking documents by utilizing an 80 column screen format and simple commands that enable you to: vary margins, justify text, search and replace words or phrases, vary page and paper length, link unlimited amounts of pages, and move blocks of text between pages. Printer commands include shadow and bold printing, superscript, subscript, and centering.

It's a Spreadsheet!

Performs tedious home, school or business calculations quickly and easily. Frequently used formulas can be duplicated throughout the 17 columns and 50 rows. You can assign a name to a value, for use at another place in the spreadsheet. Conditionals can be performed on any value or formula to test theories or affect other values and formulas in the spreadsheet.

It's Integrated!

Because both programs are integrated as a single system, data can be moved between the programs without ever having to swap disks or reload programs. A window capability allows data to be viewed in one screen, while working with another set of data in the other screen. This means you can generate and print customized reports and letters, with data incorporated anywhere in the written text.

HOME OFFICE interfaces with Tri Micro's THE WRITE FILE and PLUS GRAPH, designed to further increase your personal productivity.
